

I am writing concerning the proposed new FCC rules governing ownership of our airwaves.

In order for democracy to work, information must come a variety of sources. Rules allowing fewer and fewer companies to control our information necessary undermine genuine democracy.

We need to be an example to the rest of the world, enabling local stations to air local shows and opinions, instead of selling our airwaves (and thus democracy) to the highest bidder.

Thank You,

Aaron Heller